Movie or TV Productions

1998 TV Movie

Brave New World, a made-for-TV movie starring Peter Gallagher (you know him from The O.C., or if you're super-cool, from Sex, Lies, and Videotape) and Leonard Nimoy (from Star Trek).

1980 TV Movie

Brave New World, a made-for-TV movie. No fun famous people, as far as we can tell, and it looks like they took some liberties renaming the characters (Lenina Disney? OK...)

Videos

Interview With The Author

An interview with Huxley. Not as scary as you might have imagined it would be.

Mescaline Experiments

Huxley tried drugs to achieve a different and new state of consciousness.

Audios

Iron Maiden

Iron Maiden did a song called "Brave New World." Check it out.

Motorhead

Hmm...another "Brave New World" song, this time by Motorhead.

Free Audio Book

OK, so you have to wait for the intro music to go by, but after that it's a fun audio book. For free, nevertheless. Also, the book is totally different in British-speak.

The classic image from the cover of the book.

Documents

"When the Future Looked Brave and New"

A recent book review of Huxley's selected letters, edited by James Sexton.

"Brave New World Revisited"

In 1958, Huxley wrote an essay on his novel called "Brave New World Revisited", in which he examines how society has advanced toward his horrid vision of the future. If you're into the novel as a piece of literature, this isn't too exciting, but if the science excites you, then this is for you.
